Journalistic Keepsakes.

Setting here in our sanctum and thinking our eye musingly falls upon, and the hand toys with a little trinket a keepsake, as the world goes, a vade me cum. It is of no particular value as values are reckoned, but it is useful to the hand and a treasure to the heart. A thousand times taken up, a thousand times used, a thousand times found in readiness, it has come to be like a fond friend waiting to anticipate a want and ready to supply it. And yet it is but a trinket, a senseless thing merely the old dragoon revolver we wrenched from Buffalo Bill when he came charging in here to obliterate us for writing a police item about him. We buried him in our little graveyard, back of the office but we can never gaze upon that little pistol without a feeling of admiration for his misplaced and unfortunate temerity.

That classically moulded limb, pickled and dried, hanging up on the wall, is the left shank of Six-toed Pete, the great Mud Springs desperado, who came here to remonstrate with us for publishing his marriage under the head of "deaths." It was the printer's blunder not ours, but no matter we riddled him with that revolver and then took off his leg at the hip joint with the first slash of our trusty little hatchet, we should have completed his dismemberment had he not ran away, coward that he was. His two big brothers who came for that leg and revenge, both rest in our graveyard back of the office, peace to their ashes.

The jagged and knotty old Leejee war club in the corner this dilapidated nose and broken jaw, as well as this bullet which we still feel evermore stinging away in the interior of our right lung were left us by old Bluffkins, the editor of the Gospel Bugle, who came on from the East to kill us for connecting his name with the Beecher scandal and proving that he was the father of Bessie Turner as well as the bosom friend of Susan B Anthony. Our trusty pistol and little hatchet did not fail us and he too lies, editorially in our quiet little graveyard back of the office.

The elongated coop shaped memento which we use for a waste basket was once the ear of a Virginia City newspaper reporter. He would persist in stealing our items so we were obliged to cut off his ear with our little hatchet fallaciously thinking that would stop him. His head goes next.

We cannot gaze upon that waste basket without a sentimental degree of reflection stealing diagonally across our sensibilities. Overflowing as it now is, with rejected manuscript in exasperating prose abortive poetry obituary rhymes and soul harrowing literary trash generally, was it not always crammed full of still worse trash in the way of no-account items dog fights, swill carts accidents, and all sorts of sensational lies gauzy humbugs and cock-and-bull stories? Ah! how eagerly that captious gullible ear drank them in. May it not in some unknown and mysterious way have become so saturated with those items that perhaps some may yet cling to it as the perfume of flowers around a vase which held them. It is a thing of more use than beauty but it is like our other keepsakes overflowing with subtle emanations and personal reminders. All this may be sentimental fancy but it is fancy without a fault it may be nonsense, which will make the world better if acted upon for thoughts may be thus kept from wandering and hearts from straying till the feet learn to tread the upper paths of life and love the better way.—Gold Hill News.

A Scientific Fallacy Exposed.

The St Louis Republican says: It was reserved for a boy out on Olive street to produce a new act to the old and oft repeated drama of "A Dog with Something Tied to His Tail." It wasn't any old oyster can or split stick affair but something entirely new. The dog which was a little black and tan terrier, with an aristocratic air was following a lady and the boy was idling along the street with a red toy balloon which he was holding by a string. It was a very large balloon as large as those toy balloons ever grow. The lady passed the boy and turned the corner. The dog came trotting along and was about to pass the boy also when the urchin impelled by a spirit of evil grabbed him. Then still further instigated by the devil and curiosity the boy tied the end of the string in his hand firmly about the dog's tail about two inches from the end, and let go. The animal started off with a yelp to rejoin its mistress but it didn't regain her all at once. The balloon straightened out the tail in an instant so that it pointed toward the zenith with a kind of 'excelsior' expression, and the dog's motions carried out the idea perfectly. The wind freshened up a little and the dog's hind feet were lifted off the ground, and then began a series of remarkable but ineffective movements on the part of the animal. It didn't seem to be a trained dog but it turned somersaults and stood on its fore feet and sung little snatches of song as never any circus dog in the world did. It would make the most tremendous leaps and land exactly in the spot it jumped from, and then it would settle down to work with its fore legs and ply them at the rate of 4,000,000 revolutions a minute, and get over the ground in a manner that couldn't have been supposed under the circumstances. The circumstances were peculiar though and the dog didn't, during the entire play get beyond the block. The red balloon soared with all the persistency of a Columbian orator's hyperbole, and the terrier's tail refused to break. Then the dog got desperate, and bounded and struggled, and vaulted while the balloon in the air bobbed up and down like the cork on the line of a giant fishing for whales. And all the while the animal sang. Finally the string broke, and the balloon shot up toward the clouds. The dog disappeared at the same time though the boy noticed something like a black-and-tan streak reaching for seventeen blocks which lasted for a moment only. The performance, as a whole had been a success but it left a bad impression on the boy's mind. He concluded that his schoolmaster must be a fool. He had been taught that a body impelled by two forces operating at right angles to each other would take an intermediate course. He had just seen that such a body didn't get along at all.

—Little Delaware keeps up the antiquated custom of punishing her criminals at the pillory and the whipping-post with a pertinacity that shows no signs of waning. We suppose the people of the State enjoy their peculiar notoriety. They also claim to have secured special immunity from crime by their employment of penalties elsewhere regarded as barbarous, and which, they have asserted, are never incurred twice. But this claim is not always sustained. The last batch of criminals under the lash included several who had undergone the same torture before.

ARTIFICIAL STONE

A Word to A. Berard and F. Chappellet.

IN THE OAKLAND "NEWS" OF THIS morning appears an extraordinary advertisement from A Berard and F Chappellet in reference to the respective merits of Schillinger's Patent Artificial Stone manufactured by us and what they please to put forward as Berard's.

In December last we noticed a piece of work done by them which contained an infringement on Schillinger's patent and we notified Mr Berard that if he persisted in its use we would prosecute him therefor. We have no proof that he has any patent. If he has why should he infringe on ours. But when he found that we were determined to maintain our rights he was compelled to relinquish an essential portion of our patent that he had been employing and which, consequently deprives his work of its principal value.

As to the absurd statement that our work is inferior and contains cracks, we can only say to those desiring to have work done and examine it. In one instance there is a flaw in consequence of our being in possession upon with an inferior article entering into the composition of our [illegible] and which we could not discover till the work was done. But as we give a five years guarantee for our stone and replace any unsatisfactory flagging the loss must be ours and not our patrons. We can easily remove any imperfect work by our process and replace it by that which is satisfactory and the reason why the flaws referred to have not been repaired before is that we have other work to do for the same gentleman at whose suggestion it has been postponed. We hold the most flattering testimonials of satisfaction from gentlemen for whom we have done work in this city and to whom we confidently refer.

Mr Berard's letter of [illegible] is [illegible] and we think Messrs Berard and Chappellet very unwise to bring it forward again.

It is needless for us to say more than that our work speaks for itself and that we shall protect our patent rights. In conclusion we will merely say that we shall put the onus of proof on the gentlemen for their mean insinuation that we have pocketed thousands of dollars from too many credulous gentlemen who confided in us before the proper tribunal.

SCHILLINGER'S

Artificial Stone!

A PARTING WORD

IN A REPLY TO OUR ADVERTISEMENT of Saturday, published in this morning's "News" Messrs Berard & Chappellet the advertisement has no signature but we must presume it to be theirs) say we do not speak the truth in reference to notifying Mr Berard of his infringement on our rights. Our notification was through the press and it had the desired effect.

The attempt of these gentlemen to throw discredit upon our work is futile. The patent we employ has stood the test of years and is employed in many of the public places of the principal cities of the United States. It is no local experiment like that of our neighbors which so far has not commended itself but an article which proves its value as tested by years.

REDUCTION IN GAS.

Important to Landlords and Gas Consumers.

SAFETY AND ECONOMY.

OFFICE OAKLAND GASLIGHT Co. February 1 1875

IN PURSUANCE OF THE POLICY FOLlowed by this Company since its formation viz to lower its rates as rapidly as is warranted by the growth of the city, the price of gas will be reduced on the

1st Day of March Next

—TO—

$4 25 PER 1,000 CUBIC FEET.

Considering the value of coal and labor the limited use of gas and the distance between the places of consumption

Oakland will be the most cheaply lighted city in the Union

This price will leave no valid excuse for the use of any illuminant but Coal Gas along the line of the Company's mains a large part of which are now and have been since they were laid unproductive of income.

The advantages to be reaped by the public from Cheap Gas are—

1st —A daily saving in the cost of one of the necessaries of life.

2d — A decrease in the number of destructive fires caused by the use of the volatile distillates of Petroleum.

3d — A saving of human life by substituting stationary lights for brittle lamps.

4th —The most convenient and best light brought within the means of the most economical household.

However small the house the economy will be great. If insured the rate of premium will be lessened if not insured the risk of loss will be decreased.

This reduction can only be profitable to the company by the accession of a sufficient number of new consumers to compensate for the lessening of its current receipts and it will become the interest of all consumers of gas to induce their neighbors to adopt this light in order that further reductions may be made in the future.

The attention of consumers is also directed to the use of gas for heating and cooking. In Europe and the Eastern cities it has been adopted to a great extent and its use is constantly extending.

It is to be hoped that this movement will be accepted in the spirit which has inspired it, and which has always characterized the Company, viz

That the Interests of Consumers and the Company are Identical.

The Company are constantly [illegible] all changes in modes of manufacture and distribution and will at all times avail itself of any real improvements which tend to improve quality and lessen price.

CHARLES SUMNER did not, while he was Senator, think it beneath his dignity to preside over Republican Conventions in Massachusetts, and we never heard it charged as being undignified in him, nor that any person thought it at all improper.—Stockton Independent.

Did Senator Charles Sumner ever crawl into a convention as a proxy?

WE never knew what Bro. Boruck meant in a succession of issues of the horse paper, by declaring that a "Federal battle must be fought in California this summer." Light has at last dawned on our unsophisticated vision. The Federal brigade came and saw and conquered.

THE only thing Mr. Gorham overlooked in the platform, to have made it completely consistent as a back-action arrangement, was a plank denunciatory of the universal brotherhood of man, but chiefly aimed at the Heathen Chinee. The unwashed will certainly detect this omission, to the discomfiture of G. Coolie G.

THE School Teachers' Convention at San Jose passed a series of resolutions, among which was one to "disapprove the character of the questions selected by the State Board of Examination for the examination of teachers at the June term, as being poorly calculated to test the capability of applicants for certificates and tending solely to exclude from the profession those who by both scholastic attainments and ability to impart instruction and train the youth, would be worthy workers in the cause of public instruction."

THEN what is there to sustain a single objection to the hearty support of the ticket? Only this, and nothing more, that Gorham and Carr helped make it, and such an objection is simply ridiculous. They are but two individuals in thousands, and he is an idiot who will bolt the party and its principles for such a frivolous cause.—Transcript.

The editor hasn't got over the idiocy produced by his bolting Gorham in 1867, simply because Bidwell was defeated. But then he didn't hold a Custom House sinecure. That may make some difference. Perhaps Bishop was captured by Bidwell's kid gloves and basket of cherries, and did not think of Gorham's turning up in the U. S. Senate—as Secretary, at least.

WE have heard it expressed in private circles, that if the Dolly Vardens were to take up Pacheco for Governor, he would be elected. Our idea of Pacheco's case is, that he had best just quietly attend to the duties of his office and let politics alone. To allow his name to go before any other convention during the present campaign, would look like making a business of politics on his part. From what we also understand, the Dollies and Democrats would have "gone for" Pacheco worse than they can for Phelps, and republics are too ungrateful to remember the martyrs. Best to let well enough alone.

THE Republican Convention for nominating a candidate for Congress from the Fourth (or Southern) District, takes place at San Jose to-day—at least that is our recollection of the time and place. Those who think Pacheco will have any chance there, will be much mistaken, else we miss our guess very much. It is possible that the managers of the Conventions this year may have concluded to bridge over the chasm incident to Pacheco's slaughter at Sacramento, and give him a show for Congress, but our opinion was formed as to the Southern District, even before the State Convention met. We knew some of the best delegates from the southern counties, who were for Pacheco for Governor most emphatically, but who were for Houghton for Congress just as earnestly. Houghton has a sort of opposition overland railroad prestige down that way, which, taken in connection with the State platform, will most likely make him the nominee. Whether Bro. Boruck will be Secretary of the Convention, perhaps remains to be seen.

THE emigration to this State by overland railroad, is less than it was six weeks or two months ago, but it has not entirely ceased by any means. In fact, the reaction that Eastern papers have been trying to create, has not weakened the steady stream. It was natural that there would be a tremendous pressure on overland transportation, immediately after the hard winter just passed in the Atlantic States and Northwest. We believe it would be better for our side of the question as well as theirs, if the rush of emigation were to occur in the fall instead of the spring. They leave the east in greatest numbers just when the country left behind is beginning to take on its most attractive appearance, and arrive here when the Pacific Coast is most repulsive. Of course, the emigrant laborer stands a better show for work by coming here in the fore part of the summer. But of the steady and healthy stream of new blood that is flowing across the continent to our advantage, there is no doubt. Eastern newspapers cannot turn it aside, no more than the subjects of Bismark can be prevented from escaping the rigorous political climate of the German Empire. The beauty of this constant filling up, is that it tends to equalize itself over the States and Territories of our coast without extra help, after all our fears.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 13.—Over one hundred of the leading citizens of this city, irrespective of party, have tendered Hon. J. C. New, recently appointed United States Treasurer, a public dinner, previous to his departure for Washington to assume his official duties. Among the signers are embraced the names of United States Senators Morton and McDonald, Governor Hendricks, Federal, State and Municipal officials, all of the leading bankers and editors, as well as prominent attorneys, merchants and substantial business men. Mr. New declined the compliment, for the reason that he had not yet been tried in such a responsible position, and his ability to successfully discharge the duties was as yet unproved.

BERLIN, June 13.—The Post says the officers of the U. S. squadron have received a most cordial welcome in Berlin from the Prince Imperial and Chief of the German Admiralty. The American residents are to give a banquet in their honor.

Hon. Carl Schurz will return in October. He intends to stay a short time in England.

WATER RESOURCES, ETC.

If we can but get through the present "corner" on water, that nature and short-sightedness have got on the people of Oakland, there ought not to be any trouble for perhaps a quarter of a century. Once get that new reservoir completed and filled on the present "catchment" plan, and that in addition to the one used at present, there will be a supply that will tide over any dry season that may come for the next twenty years at least, and it is not a very costly affair all things considered. It can be repeated at various points in comparatively easy reach of Oakland. So long as that system of supply is adhered to, there need be no bother about the resource. A dam can be thrown across the debouch of every canyon, as it were, and a vast head of good, bad and indifferent water obtained for household and irrigation purposes. When we say, bad we mean it might be unfit for house use, but very good for many other purposes.

Why could not this "catchment" plan be applied to thousands of places in this State that are suffering for irrigation as a rule? If the rains were caught and held in the canyons, after the manner of Lake Chabot, for instance, or the San Leandro reservoir, millions upon millions of acres might be adapted to the most successful agricultural operations, and uninterruptedly. This is leaving out of the count all the great lakes and rivers of the State, which seem to engage the chief attention of the political economists at this time, to say nothing of artesian and other wells.

But to repeat our first proposition, it is quite unnecessary for the people of this side of the bay to get alarmed about water, except for the prevailing season. From now until the rains fill the San Leandro reservoir, economy cannot be insisted upon too severely. Once get the amount of that new lake, and the future will be clear, so far as this place is concerned. Of course, it will never be such water as that of Tahoe, but such as it is, it can be had in any abundance at comparatively little cost—simply that of throwing an embankment across the canyons and attaching the mains to them. In the meantime, use economy—at least fairness and decency in regard to irrigating "at night."

CARTOONS FOR THE CAMPAIGN.

Our first impression, on seeing the lengthy and detailed character of the Republican platform and ticket put forth at Sacramento, was that the campaign would most likely discount the Beecher scandal in personalities, charges and counter-charges. On second thought, we see a rare field too for the pencil of a Jump or Nast. For instance, when the first news of the startling character of the Convention was heralded over the State, people of all sorts of politics, and who were at all acquainted with the history of public men and things in California, were literally speechless: and putting this and the helpless condition of the minority part of the delegation at Sacramento together, and the caricaturist might easily give us a new version of Elaine. It was the dumb steered by the damned, if we are to believe Gorham to be completely "possessed," and all hands going up Salt River.

Now, that we are getting in the returns from all quarters, and see how thoroughly the campaign was organized, and that the Bulletin is afraid Mr. Gorham is in earnest, we can see numberless cartoons of force and variety cropping out through the manipulations of all parties. In short, the pending campaign promises to be rich, rare and racy to the last degree. Republicans are recovering their breath to some extent, and are generally sort of resting calmly on their oars. When the kid-gloved convention meets, and the unwashed has had its day, and the "special artist on the spot" has returned to his studio with his portfolio full of cartoons, we expect to see fun ahead. Gorham might be represented at this stage of the game, as a cat with nine lives, and always lighting on his feet in a way to astonish both friends and enemies. To his enemies, this last play may be compared to Macbeth—G. taking the part of Hecate, and Sargent, Carr and Boruck as the three witches. Altogether, they worked on the ambition of Phelps to such a degree that he moved on the works of Duncan. (Pacheco). The people know the rest. We must say that we admire George, pity the Dolly Vardens and congratulate the Democracy—for the time being.

JAMES GRANT, the Hill Beachy of Arizona, died lately at San Bernardino. Through all sorts of weather and difficulties he has "staged it" in that country for over ten years—run the gauntlet almost in the teeth of fate. He was as indomitable as his namesake at Washington, and his was a life full of adventure. He had something of the looks in size and countenance of President Grant, and was from the same family in Massachusetts in the early days of New England. The Presidential branch "went west" to Ohio, and that of Arizona Grant went north to Canada to "avoid the draft" on the eve of the revolution. In other words, we should say, that there was a difference of opinion as to the right of the colonies to take up arms against the home government. Curiously enough, this same Grant family took part in the rebellion in Canada in 1837-8, which was inaugurated for practically the same purpose of the American revolution—the difference simply being, that one succeeded and the other didn't. The Arizona mail carrier was but a boy at that time, but having the American spirit of independence in him, came over to the United States and grew up with the country, and was an ardent Union man during our late war, but never tried to make his "relationship" known at Washington—that was left for the brother-in-laws. James Grant was a quiet, industrious, energetic and good-hearted man, and we are sorry to hear of his rather early taking off. It was as unexpected to us, as the death of Beachy.

ST. LOUIS, June 12.—Advices from the West say that W. D. Jenkins, Deputy U. S. Marshal, and W. D. Street, an Indian scout and guide, had a desperate fight with a band of Cheyenne Indians in Rawlins county, Kansas, a few days ago. They fortified themselves at the head of a ravine and fought the Indians for hours. They killed seven of them, and finally drove them off.

PARIS, June 13.—President McMahon to-day reviewed 36,000 troops at Longchamps, in presence of 300,000 spectators.

PIXLEY AND HIS MULE.

At the loss of a dear friend, tears may be pardoned: to be disappointed in love or war, is suggestive of wrath and revenge; but on the whole, it is just as well to laugh as cry over spilt milk. We admit a certain degree of admiration and general interest at the way Bro. Pixley goes for Gorham & Co. through the Chronicle—at least he gets the credit for it on the outside. But his stubbornness partakes too much of the nature of spite to pass altogether unnoticed. We had all along admired the earnest and intelligent manner indulged by Mr. P. in trying to anticipate the convention, but when we saw Mr. P. mount his proverbial mule and charge upon the enemy in person, our admiration gave way to pity. In slang-whanging, quarreling and button-holing round the saloons of Sacramento, Bro. P. was certainly a little "off," to say the least. It savored too much of the ward politician, and not enough of the high-toned journalist. As an "innocent abroad," Bro. P. is not a success. To be sure, it is not the first instance of where a great editor has gone out in search of wool, and returned badly shorn; but in these better days of journalism, "founded by Horace Greeley," it is not considered the province of the true, the beautiful and the good in the editorial way, to take off his coat and log-roll on the lower-level of personal-political affairs. In short had Bro. P. not made more or less of an ass of himself, he would not now be doing the kicking mule business, with blue-fire accompaniments. Either confine your operations as editor to the regular tripod hereafter, and let primaries and conventions personally alone, or be ever prepared to take a turn on the dunce-block. Politics are too much of Bro. P.'s nature to allow him to settle calmly in the editorial chair.

AMONG the seventy-seven names of the appointees to the Dolly Varden Convention made by the "P-e-o-p-l-e" of San Francisco, by their self-constituted guardians, the immortal thirteen, we do not recognise the name of a single "greasy mechanic"—they are all of the kid glove party. They are, in fact, of the "governing class." They are of the kind that would feel themselves disgraced by having to set in a convention of "mud-sills." This, in fact, was the reason for the selection of seventy-seven by the immaculate and infallible thirteen. The Convention will all be provided with white kids.—Colusa Sun.

Heavy Losses.—The losses of the New York and Philadelphia Insurance Companies thus far, this year, have been greater than for the whole of 1874, and this without any very great single catastrophe.—S. F. Spirit of the Times.

Mr. Redstone announced that branches of this organization would be established in every town in California From the remarks of the speaker we infer that the "United Workingmen's" society is a semi-political organization and without desiring to appear meddlesome, we modestly suggest that those staunch workingmen Gorham & Co, and Higgins & Co would be a great acquisition to the association Their advice in political matters would be exceedingly valuable
